Product Description

This 3 in 1 charging cable from Delock is used to charge various devices, such as tablets or smartphones with Lightning™ or USB Type-C™ connection via a USB power source. The cable is the ideal companion for on the go, e.g. on business trips or on holiday, as it combines the two most common connections for current mobile devices in a single cable. This avoids annoying cable tangles and the unnecessary carrying around of countless cables.

The cable is very durable and long-lasting due to its robust textile sheathing, strong strain relief and metal housing at all cable ends. The high wire cross-section of 22 AWG also supports a stable power supply of up to 3 A.
