Product Description

Gigaset E720A black

Even if you miss a call, you still receive the message with the Gigaset E720A. It has an integrated digital answering machine with up to 30 minutes of recording time. You can listen to the message conveniently via the base station, and also via the handset or via secure remote retrieval from anywhere. What's also good is that you have up to 170 seconds for your individual answer message. And if the power should ever go out at home, the recordings are still saved.
